Muller Insurance Unveils New Website
Provides Easier Access to Information, Quick Quotes & Assistance

HOBOKEN, NJ (October 26, 2016)— Muller Insurance, an independent insurance agency, has unveiled a new customer-friendly Website that makes it easier for visitors to get quotes on insurance policies, file claims and download guides to help them make the best decisions when it comes to purchasing insurance to protect their homes, autos, businesses and families.

The new site (mullerinsurance.com) provides visitors with background on the complete range of insurance products Muller offers from more than two dozen nationally-recognized insurance companies, such as Chubb, Travelers, Progressive, AIG and Farmers, among many others. The site also provides background on Muller's staff, operations and history of helping people save money on insurance for 110 years.

Individuals and nonprofits can even use the new Muller Website to register for Muller Rewards, a new program that offer participants gifts cards for referring on individuals who take out policies with Muller.

"Muller always puts service first," explained Co-owner Roger J Muller Jr., whose grandfather, John Muller, started the agency in Hoboken in 1906. "Our new Website is just another way we're reaching out to our clients across 25 states to make working with Muller easier and more rewarding."

The new site provides information and background on more than a dozen different products Muller offers including homeowners, condo/coop, renters, auto, condo association, business, disability and liability insurance, among others. It also gives visitors the chance to ask a question or even request a quick quote on virtually any insurance product offered.

"Our agents are always there to help clients or visitors learn how they can get the best policy for the right price that meet their needs," Muller said. "Our new site helps us do that whether you live down the block from our office or across the country."
